

The design by Jordi Busquets proposes an imaginative set of contrasts in the ample composition and comfort of the seat which permits the combination of the finishes and the highlights the open space in the inferior zone of the backrest. The rod structure with moderate lines complement and reinforce the originality and attractiveness of this proposal.

Stackable and multipurpose chair and chair with arms with a sled like base and a functional, innovative design.

The seat is composed of an varnished or lacquered beech wood exterior shell and an interior seat made from an upholstered cushion or polyurethane PUR. The frame is made from a 12 mm ø, stainless steel rod which gives lightness to the model as well as an excellent structural resistance. The stainless steel comes in a dull polished finish.